KASANAI is a contemporary design studio creating collectible furniture and objects distinguished by refined materiality, sculptural simplicity, and timeless elegance. Through the thoughtful use of microcement, stainless steel, and rare burl wood, the studio explores the expressive potential of contrasting materials, balancing strength with softness and precision with organic character. Each piece is shaped by a meticulous attention to form, texture, and proportion, resulting in objects that embody quiet sophistication.

Guided by a process of experimentation and inspired by both natural landscapes and architectural composition, KASANAI develops collections that celebrate the dialogue between light, structure, and material. Combining artisanal craftsmanship with a contemporary design language, the studio creates enduring pieces that transform everyday environments through understated luxury, tactile richness, and a profound respect for material authenticity.
