DESIGNER

Corine Vanvoorbergen

Corine Vanvoorbergen is a Belgian artist and designer whose work explores the intersection of sculpture, craft, and functional design. Through a highly intuitive and hands-on process, she creates furniture and objects distinguished by their tactile surfaces, organic forms, and quiet emotional presence. Her practice is guided by a sensitivity to material and form, resulting in pieces that invite both physical interaction and contemplation.

Working across ceramics, wood, metal, and mixed media, Vanvoorbergen embraces experimentation and artisanal techniques to develop works that feel simultaneously raw and refined. Balancing sculptural expression with everyday utility, her creations celebrate imperfection, texture, and the beauty of handmade processes, establishing a distinctive dialogue between art, materiality, and lived experience.
