POPUS EDITIONS

POPUS EDITIONS is a French furniture and lighting house founded by Fanny and Yannick Gicquel. Drawing on decades of experience in furniture, interior design, and decoration, the duo established the studio to create a distinctive collection of contemporary pieces that celebrate individuality, craftsmanship, and the expressive use of colour, pattern, and material. Rooted in Paris with influences spanning London and the French Alps, Popus Editions reflects a joyful and sophisticated vision of contemporary living. Characterized by generous silhouettes, vibrant palettes, and a playful dialogue between textures and prints, the studio’s collections balance refined craftsmanship with a bold decorative language. Travel, architecture, and cultural exchange serve as enduring sources of inspiration, informing furniture and lighting that embrace customization and encourage personal expression. Through collaborations with designers and artisans, Popus Editions creates distinctive pieces that combine contemporary elegance with a spirited sense of warmth and optimism.
