Cezar Moldovan x Arbore

Cezar Moldovan x Arbore brings together the architectural vision of Berlin-based architect Cezar Moldovan and the Romanian design house Arbore in a collection that explores the relationship between architecture, craftsmanship, and everyday living. Developed through a close dialogue between designer and maker, the collaboration translates architectural structures into collectible furniture, where form, proportion, and material become quiet expressions of spatial thinking. Inspired by the observation that architecture surrounds us in our daily lives, the collection reinterprets familiar structural elements at a domestic scale, creating objects that balance sculptural presence with functional purpose. Combining traditional woodworking with contemporary fabrication, each piece celebrates the tactile qualities of natural materials while embracing precision and restraint. Through an emphasis on texture, light, and architectural rhythm, Cezar Moldovan x Arbore creates furniture that exists between object and space, offering timeless works designed to be experienced, lived with, and appreciated over time.
