DESIGNER

Os and OOs

studio OOS approaches design as a holistic practice, creating environments in which function and poetry, intimacy and collectivity, converge. Working across objects, installations, interiors, and architecture, the studio considers every project as an integrated composition, where form, material, color, and space engage the senses and shape a distinctive emotional experience. At the heart of the practice is a rigorous exploration of material, proportion, and atmosphere. Contrasts between the fragile and monumental, translucent and opaque, light and weight create a nuanced spatial language, while color establishes rhythm and depth. Furniture, lighting, and architectural gestures become part of a larger narrative, unfolding through movement and interaction. Collaboration with clients, brands, and artisans further enriches this process, transforming shared ideas into singular expressions. Precise yet inherently evocative, studio OOS creates environments that transcend the purely visual, inviting presence, contemplation, and lasting emotional resonance.
