Perler

Perler Design, founded and creatively directed by Katherine Szyc, explores the intersection of art and design through the expressive potential of Jesmonite. From tables and consoles to sculptural objects, her work combines minimalist forms with rich textures, material depth, and cultural resonance. Each piece is conceived as both functional furniture and a distinctive artistic statement. Collaboration lies at the heart of the studio's practice. Szyc works with exceptional artists and craftspeople across Poland, developing each project through her concepts, sketches, and direction before entrusting its realization to skilled hands. Painters, ceramicists, and other makers transform her ideas into one-of-a-kind and limited-edition works, creating a dialogue between sculptural form and individual artistic expression. Rejecting mass production, Perler Design embraces craftsmanship, individuality, and shared authorship. Every creation is meticulously handcrafted, carrying its own narrative while uniting material experimentation, artisanal skill, and a refined contemporary sensibility.
