Jean-Baptiste Van den Heede

Jean-Baptiste Van den Heede is a Belgian designer whose collectible furniture explores the dialogue between sculpture, craftsmanship, and contemporary form. Drawing on a background in sculpture and woodworking, he creates refined pieces distinguished by architectural compositions, balanced proportions, and a deep sensitivity to natural materials. Working primarily with wood and metal, Van den Heede develops a restrained design language where material honesty and meticulous craftsmanship take center stage. Guided by a sculptural approach, his work celebrates texture, light, and the inherent character of each material. Produced in limited editions and bespoke commissions, Van den Heede’s furniture balances contemporary minimalism with the warmth of traditional craftsmanship, resulting in timeless pieces that invite quiet contemplation and lasting connection.
