Studio Indigene

Studio Indigene is an Indian design brand dedicated to reviving and reinterpreting indigenous crafts through contemporary furniture and homeware. Founded to preserve traditional hand-skills such as carving, weaving, and metal inlay, the studio collaborates closely with rural artisans across India, sustaining craft knowledge passed through generations. Its designs bring heritage and modernity into dialogue, translating traditional motifs and techniques into clean, minimalist silhouettes. Each piece balances decorative richness with restrained form, allowing craftsmanship to remain at the forefront. Environmental responsibility is central to the practice, with responsibly sourced hardwoods, natural finishes, and small-batch production supporting sustainability and material integrity. Through this considered approach, Studio Indigene creates objects that honor cultural heritage while remaining relevant to contemporary interiors. Its work bridges tradition and modern living, offering a refined and respectful perspective on Indian craftsmanship for a global design audience.
