DESIGNER

Malte Gormsen

Malte Gormsen is a distinguished Copenhagen based atelier where Danish cabinetmaking heritage meets the precision of contemporary innovation. Founded by Malte Gormsen, the studio creates bespoke furniture and interiors that honour the inherent character of wood through an exacting approach to craftsmanship, material, and form. Its work spans private residences, fine dining spaces, luxury boutiques, and distinguished hotels, with each commission conceived as a singular expression of architectural and artisanal excellence. Rooted in a family tradition of art, architecture, and cabinetmaking, Gormsen developed an early affinity for materials and making. His early apprenticeship in Scotland, followed by work under Niels Roth Andersen, connected him to the legacy of distinguished Danish design. Today, the atelier unites traditional techniques with advanced production methods, treating wood as a living material imbued with warmth, history, and character. Through close collaboration with architects, designers, and clients, Malte Gormsen creates refined furniture and interiors defined by precision, functionality, enduring quality, and quiet poetic elegance.
