DESIGNER

Joost Dingemans

Dutch designer Joost Dingemans, co-founder of the Eindhoven-based studio and brand Kaireine, crafts contemporary furniture and products that marry technical innovation with a playful aesthetic. A graduate of the Design Academy Eindhoven, Dingemans approaches each piece as an exploration of material capability—experimenting with resins, metals, and composites to challenge conventional perceptions of utility and beauty. Whether creating one-off gallery works or reproducible designs, his output retains a human touch, often revealing the processes and imperfections that make each object unique. His work resonates in both domestic and public contexts, appealing to a generation seeking sincerity in design.
