DESIGNER

Lusano

Founded in Los Angeles with European roots, Lusano is a contemporary design studio working at the intersection of craftsmanship and architectural form. The studio produces a curated collection of furniture and objects that reflect a restrained, sculptural language, where each piece is conceived as both functional and expressive. Rooted in an appreciation for material integrity and enduring design, Lusano emphasizes heirloom-quality production, blending traditional techniques with a contemporary sensibility. From dining tables to collectible pieces, each work is developed with a focus on proportion, texture, and longevity, resulting in objects that evolve gracefully over time. With an architectural approach that prioritizes clarity and quiet sophistication, Lusano's practice reflects a dialogue between past and present—merging old-world craftsmanship with modern restraint. The result is a body of work defined by subtle refinement, tactile richness, and a commitment to timeless design.
