Chanel Kapitanj

Chanel Kapitanj is a Belgian designer and metal artist based in Liège. Trained in industrial design and welding, she has developed a practice centered on the exploration of metal as both a structural and expressive medium, creating furniture and objects distinguished by their sculptural presence and material authenticity. Working directly with metal through a hands-on process, Kapitanj combines technical precision with an intuitive approach to form and surface. Her pieces balance strength and refinement, revealing a deep appreciation for craftsmanship, texture, and the transformative potential of raw materials. Through this dialogue between function and artistic expression, she creates works that are both contemporary and deeply personal.
