DESIGNER

Os and OOs

studio OOS pursues a holistic approach to design, creating environments where the senses are engaged across physical and emotional dimensions, merging functionality with poetry, and balancing the individual with the social. Every project is conceived as an integrated whole, where form, material, and color converse with both space and user, shaping atmospheres that are simultaneously intimate and expansive. Operating at the threshold between object and environment, studio OOS designs collectible objects, immersive installations, and architectural interventions as integral components of a larger narrative. Each element—whether furniture, lighting, movement, reflection, and interaction. Materiality is central to the practice, explored through contrasts—light and heavy, translucent and opaque, fragile and monumental—while color orchestrates rhythm, depth, and spatial harmony. Proportions are meticulously calibrated, ensuring cohesion between the smallest detail and the grandest architectural expression. Collaboration underpins this vision, engaging clients, brands, and artisans in a dialogue that transforms shared ambition into singular outcomes. studio OOS's work is precise yet alive with possibility, crafting spaces that resonate beyond the visual, inviting presence, emotion, and contemplation.
