DESIGNER

Joost Dingemans

Dutch designer Joost Dingemans, co founder of the Eindhoven based studio and brand Kaireine, creates contemporary furniture and objects that unite technical innovation with a distinctly playful sensibility. A graduate of Design Academy Eindhoven, Dingemans explores the expressive potential of materials, working with resins, metals, and composites to challenge conventional notions of utility, form, and beauty. Across both unique gallery works and reproducible designs, his practice maintains a strong sense of material honesty and human presence. Processes are often deliberately revealed, allowing imperfections and traces of making to become integral to each object. Balancing experimentation with refined functionality, Dingemans creates works that inhabit both domestic and public spaces, reflecting a contemporary desire for authenticity, character, and meaningful design.
