DESIGNER

Thys Van Den Audenaerde

Thys van den Audenaerde is a Belgian designer whose practice spans furniture, interiors, exhibitions, and graphic design. As the creative force and art director behind barh, he approaches design as both discipline and devotion, guided by an uncompromising pursuit of excellence. Rooted in fine woodworking, his practice reflects a deep respect for material integrity and craftsmanship. Wood is treated as a collaborator, with its grain, texture, and natural character shaping each piece with clarity and restraint. Architectural precision defines his designs, expressed through pure lines, balanced proportions, and a quiet confidence. His furniture exists between utility and contemplation, meticulously considered and refined to its essential form. Handcrafted with care, each piece combines warmth and honesty with a distinctly contemporary sensibility. By allowing natural materials and thoughtful construction to take precedence over trends, Van den Audenaerde creates timeless objects that celebrate craftsmanship, materiality, and the enduring beauty of simplicity.
