Emelianova Studio

Emelianova Studio is an Italian design studio founded by Russian-born artist and designer Ksenia Emelianova, whose practice explores the intersection of collectible design, sculpture, and material experimentation. After studying interior design in Milan and gaining experience in architecture and product development, Emelianova established the studio in 2014 before expanding her practice into collectible objects in 2018. Through sculptural furniture and lighting, the studio transforms emotion, form, and craftsmanship into contemporary works that blur the boundaries between art and design. Guided by an intuitive approach to making and a deep appreciation for materials, Emelianova Studio creates expressive pieces distinguished by fluid geometries, tactile surfaces, and refined detailing. Combining artistic vision with meticulous craftsmanship, the studio develops timeless objects that celebrate material honesty, sculptural elegance, and the enduring dialogue between contemporary art and functional design.
