DeMuro Das

The New Delhi and New York-based studio DeMuro Das, founded by Brian DeMuro and Puru Das, transforms Indian craft traditions into contemporary, refined furniture and interiors. Their work is marked by a seamless layering of craft heritage and subtle modernity. Materials and forms are chosen for their tactility, restraint, and innate poise. Exhibited in their Brooklyn showroom and beyond, their pieces are simultaneously sensual and composed, conjuring stories that bridge place and memory. In their hands, texture and tradition become a quiet architectural gesture. Each object, oriented for intimate scale, resonates as both functional companion and cultural ambassadorship. While deeply rooted in Indian artisanal lineages, the studio's aesthetic remains attuned to global interiors, where form becomes mediation between culture and calm.
