Cosmin Florea

Cosmin Florea is a Romanian designer whose multidisciplinary practice bridges scenography, interiors, collectible design, and craftsmanship. Drawing from a background in theatrical set design and fashion, he approaches objects and spaces with a strong sense of narrative, composition, and atmosphere. His work reflects an ongoing interest in cultural memory, transforming traditional forms and techniques into contemporary expressions. Rooted in the artistic heritage of Transylvania, Florea collaborates closely with local artisans to preserve and reinterpret regional craft traditions, particularly handwoven textiles and ceramics. Through this dialogue between heritage and modernity, he creates collectible pieces distinguished by their tactile richness, refined simplicity, and emotional resonance. His work celebrates the enduring value of craftsmanship while bringing vernacular traditions into a contemporary design context.
