Hannes Peer

Hannes Peer is an Italian architect and designer based in Milan whose collectible furniture explores the intersection of architecture, art, and craftsmanship. Founded in 2009, his studio has developed a distinctive design language that draws on historical references while embracing contemporary forms. Rich materials including marble, wood, cast bronze, lacquer, and glass are combined with bold geometries and refined detailing, resulting in sculptural pieces that balance monumentality with elegance. Characterized by layered narratives and a strong architectural sensibility, Peer’s furniture reinterprets decorative traditions through a contemporary lens. Produced in collaboration with skilled Italian artisans, his works celebrate material richness, meticulous craftsmanship, and expressive form, creating collectible pieces that are both timeless and deeply rooted in the cultural heritage of Italian design.
