Atelier Thomas Serruys

Thomas Serruys is a Belgian designer and self-taught creator of furniture and objects whose early fascination with vintage and industrial design led him from law studies to design entrepreneurship. Since founding his atelier in 2016, he has developed a practice rooted in material exploration, craftsmanship, and a deep appreciation for timeless forms. Guided by principles of simplicity and material honesty, Serruys creates objects designed to integrate naturally into everyday life. Influenced by mid-century design movements, he carefully selects materials for the way they age and evolve, allowing each piece to accumulate character over time. Working from a repurposed cotton-spinning mill outside Bruges, he continues to develop a body of work defined by enduring functionality, quiet elegance, and thoughtful experimentation.
