Piotr Dąbrowa

Piotr Dabrowa (b. 1990) is a multidisciplinary designer based in Poland, renowned for his collectible lighting and furniture that merge sculptural expression with refined functionality. His work investigates materiality, form, and spatial presence, balancing contemporary aesthetics with timeless design principles. Each piece is crafted to elevate interiors, imbuing spaces with clarity, atmosphere, and a distinct sense of beauty. Dabrowa began his creative journey in 2011, initially working in graphic design before transitioning to product and furniture design. In 2020, he founded STUDIO-DABROWA, a practice dedicated to producing unique, collectible pieces through close collaboration galleries. His approach emphasizes a meticulous attention to detail, where craftsmanship and material exploration are paramount, and every object is conceived to resonate both functionally and emotionally. Driven by a curiosity for the potential of materials and forms, Dabrowa's designs navigate the intersection of process and purpose, producing works that are both enduring and expressive. Across lighting, furniture, and sculptural objects, his creations reflect a poetic yet pragmatic sensibility, transforming everyday environments into spaces of subtle wonder and lasting resonance.
