SINGCHAN DESIGN is a Guangzhou-based design studio dedicated to exploring and reinterpreting inspirations drawn from diverse civilizations and historical eras. Founded by designer Sing Chan, the studio approaches design as a bridge between time periods, reconstructing cultural references through a contemporary lens. Focusing on lighting, furniture, and objects, SINGCHAN DESIGN investigates the relationship between form and environment, considering how each piece inhabits space and engages with its surroundings. The studio's work is informed by a dialogue between past and present, where historical memory and modern sensibility converge. Through this layered approach, SINGCHAN DESIGN creates designs that transcend temporal boundaries, offering objects that carry narrative depth while remaining grounded in present-day use. Each creation reflects a thoughtful synthesis of cultural heritage and contemporary expression, inviting reflection on continuity, transformation, and the enduring relevance of design across time.
