Mike Ruiz-Serra

Mike Ruiz-Serra is a Barcelona-born designer whose practice explores furniture and objects at the intersection of sculpture, architecture, and design. His distinctive postmodern language is softened by the warmth of Mediterranean culture, creating works that balance bold expression with an inviting sense of ease. Through a confident interplay of form, color, and material, Ruiz-Serra develops pieces that are both visually striking and emotionally engaging. Working primarily with metal and lacquered wood, he combines rigorous geometric structures with fluid contours, creating a subtle tension between strength and softness. Bold color palettes reinforce the sculptural character of his limited-edition works, while preserving their functionality and accessibility. Deeply informed by design history, Ruiz-Serra reinterprets historical references through a contemporary lens rather than nostalgia. His furniture occupies a space between art and function, engaging with its surroundings while remaining attentive to human experience. Each piece becomes a dialogue between object and space, defined by clarity, material honesty, and enduring character.
