Gentner Design

Gentner Design is an American design studio founded by Christopher Gentner, whose practice explores the relationship between sculpture, craftsmanship, and functional design. Based in Chicago, the studio creates collectible furniture, lighting, and objects distinguished by refined metalwork, architectural precision, and a restrained material palette. Working with brass, steel, aluminum, leather, glass, and wood, Gentner develops timeless pieces that balance sculptural presence with everyday utility.

Guided by a deep respect for traditional craftsmanship and meticulous fabrication, Gentner Design embraces the expressive qualities of hand-worked materials while pushing the technical possibilities of contemporary making. Through refined detailing, structural clarity, and exceptional material integrity, the studio creates enduring works that celebrate the dialogue between art, function, and artisanal excellence.
