Monogramma

MONOGRAMMA is a multidisciplinary design studio rooted in human connection, shared experience, and a deep sense of place. United as much by empathy and emotion as by professional expertise, the studio was founded on the belief that meaningful work emerges first from relationships, then from disciplines. Over countless coffees, lunches shared in the studio, and good Friulian wine, MONOGRAMMA has cultivated a flexible and adaptive creative environment—one capable of responding intuitively to projects of varying scale and complexity. The studio believes profoundly in the individuality and professionalism of each collaborator. This trust allows for both independent Knowledge is shared fluidly, and growth is seen as a collective process shaped by dialogue and exchange. MONOGRAMMA functions as a dynamic team that evolves according to the needs of each client and project. This ability to recalibrate ensures a bespoke approach, where every commission is treated as a unique opportunity for research, experimentation, and refinement. With each project, the studio seeks to uncover added value—crafting tailored, thoughtful solutions that balance rigor with sensitivity, and offering a level of exclusivity rooted in authenticity, collaboration, and enduring design intelligence.
