Secondome Edizioni

Secondome is an Italian design gallery and production house dedicated to contemporary and collectible design, founded in Rome in 2006 by Claudia Pignatale. The gallery produces its own collections while supporting experimental designers, artisans, and master craftsmen from around the world. Its practice celebrates the creative potential of Made in Italy, combining exceptional craftsmanship with innovative materials, processes, and forms. At the heart of Secondome is a dialogue between tradition and experimentation, reimagining Italian craftsmanship through a contemporary lens. Each work is produced with meticulous attention to detail, resulting in limited editions and highly individual pieces that move beyond conventional objets d’art. Collaborating with both emerging and established talents, the gallery develops objects that balance artistic expression, functionality, and cultural relevance. Through its role as both producer and incubator, Secondome continues to champion a dynamic vision of Italian design, connecting artisanal heritage with contemporary creativity and bringing distinctive voices to an international audience.
