DESIGNER

Mickael Koska

Mickaël Koska is a Marseille-based designer whose instinctive, independent approach to design is rooted in material exploration and Mediterranean culture. Self-taught yet refined through his experience at the École Boulle, he established his studio in the heart of Marseille in 2013, where he continues to develop a singular and expressive body of work. Koska's practice is grounded in a deep respect for ancestral Mediterranean and French craftsmanship. Collaborating closely with exceptional local workshops, he draws on traditional savoir-faire to create original, contemporary pieces. Natural materials—mineral, raw, translucent, and clay-based—form the foundation of by an intimate understanding of their inherent qualities. Inspired by the landscapes and textures of Mediterranean territories and their often-overlooked riches, Koska designs generous, sculptural forms that resonate with raw poetry and modern sensibility. His restrained yet expressive language is enriched by bold color palettes drawn from the southern coast, ranging from deep purples to sea greens and warm ochres. These hues echo the subtle tones of vernacular architecture, infusing his collections with a vivid sense of place and enduring contemporary relevance.
