DESIGNER

David Del Valle

David Del Valle is a Colombian designer based in Medellín whose multidisciplinary practice spans collectible furniture, objects, interiors, and exhibition design. Trained in industrial design, he founded Tu Taller Design in 2012 before establishing Del Valle Studio, where he develops projects that unite craftsmanship, material innovation, and contemporary Latin American design. Working across disciplines, his practice explores the intersection of art, function, and cultural identity through refined, sculptural forms. Guided by a minimalist sensibility and a fascination with materials and manufacturing processes, Del Valle creates furniture and objects that balance geometric clarity with expressive materiality. Rooted in collaboration with local artisans and industry, his work celebrates thoughtful making, timeless design, and the evolving dialogue between craftsmanship and contemporary culture.
