Idaaf Architects

Idaaf Architects is a multidisciplinary design practice working across architecture, interiors, and collectible furniture. Guided by a deep sensitivity to context, materiality, and sustainability, the studio creates spaces and objects that balance architectural precision with understated elegance. Drawing on natural materials such as wood, stone, and metal, Idaaf develops a refined design language where simplicity, craftsmanship, and functionality coexist in harmony. Rooted in a holistic approach to design, the studio views furniture as a natural extension of architecture. Through close collaboration with skilled artisans and thoughtful production methods, Idaaf Architects creates timeless pieces distinguished by clean forms, tactile materials, and a quiet dialogue between object, space, and the environment.
