Henka Lab

Henka Lab is a Dutch design studio dedicated to creating furniture that combines sculptural simplicity with everyday functionality. Rooted in a modular approach, the studio develops adaptable pieces that respond to evolving ways of living, balancing clean geometries with tactile materials and thoughtful craftsmanship. Working primarily with wood, metal, and upholstered elements, Henka Lab emphasizes flexibility, durability, and timeless design.

Guided by a commitment to sustainable production and material honesty, the studio collaborates with skilled manufacturers to create furniture that is both refined and practical. Through restrained forms and versatile compositions, Henka Lab produces contemporary pieces that celebrate craftsmanship while offering lasting solutions for residential and public interiors.
