DESIGNER

Budri is an Italian design house specializing in luxury marble, natural stone, and bespoke surfaces. Founded in the late 1960s in Mirandola, the company has built an international reputation for transforming exceptional materials into furniture, architectural elements, and decorative works distinguished by their craftsmanship, precision, and artistic vision. Combining traditional stoneworking techniques with contemporary design, Budri collaborates with leading designers and architects to create collections that showcase the expressive potential of marble, onyx, and semi-precious stones. From intricate inlays to sculptural forms and architectural surfaces, its work celebrates the beauty, versatility, and timeless elegance of natural materials.
