Bosc Design is a French design studio founded by Arthur and Jean Bosc, extending the vision of their architectural practice through a collection of furniture and objects inspired by the heritage of southern France. Drawing on their experience restoring historic mas, bastides, and châteaux, the studio creates pieces that reflect a deep connection to place, craftsmanship, and architectural history. Rooted in regional traditions yet expressed through a contemporary lens, Bosc Design develops furniture distinguished by its understated elegance, material authenticity, and timeless character. Through collaborations with skilled artisans, the studio translates the textures, forms, and narratives of Provence into enduring objects designed for modern living.
