DESIGNER

Nazara Lázaro

Nazara Lázaro is a designer whose practice transforms objects and interiors into sculptural environments through intuition, experimentation, and material exploration. Born in Tenerife and now based between Barcelona and Berlin, her work is shaped by a life of movement across cultures and traditions. After studying at the Istituto Europeo di Design in Madrid, she spent nearly two years in Japan, gaining hands-on experience in traditional woodworking, architecture, and exhibition design. Her subsequent overland journey through China and Central Asia, inspired by the Silk Road, deepened her understanding of diverse rituals, materials, and cultural practices. These experiences inform her objects, interiors, sets, and ephemeral installations, where Japanese craftsmanship meets the volcanic landscapes of the Canary Islands and Berlin's contemporary energy. Her work also explores femininity and the relationship between physical and intangible forms. In 2023, Lázaro founded HENADS, a creative practice exploring immersive virtual environments while preserving a distinctly human, tactile sensibility. Through this evolving practice, she continues to investigate the expressive potential of form, material, and space.
