Gobo Lights

Gobolights is a Belgian lighting studio founded by Nicolas Brevers, whose practice explores the relationship between geometry, proportion, and contemporary craftsmanship. Based in Brussels, the studio creates bespoke and small-series lighting distinguished by sculptural forms, refined brass structures, and hand-blown glass. Drawing inspiration from mathematics, chemistry, and the timeless principles of sacred geometry, Gobolights develops luminaires that balance architectural precision with poetic lightness. Guided by a meticulous approach to design and fabrication, Gobolights combines traditional craftsmanship with contemporary production techniques to create timeless lighting of exceptional quality. Through harmonious proportions, expressive silhouettes, and thoughtful material exploration, the studio creates enduring works that celebrate precision, material honesty, and the dialogue between functional design and artistic expression.
