DESIGNER

Laurameroni

At Laurameroni, creativity is guided by curiosity and a profound desire to share the emotions and experiences that inspire each design. The studio thrives on immersion, exploring the narratives, moments, and subtle details that shape its creative universe. Each object and environment is conceived as a reflection of this exploration, capturing the complexity, beauty, and poetry inherent in design. Laurameroni's practice celebrates the interplay between form, material, and perception, transforming functional objects into expressions of emotion and thought.

By engaging with the stories behind their work, the studio crafts designs that resonate with authenticity and refinement, inviting viewers and users to experience both intimacy and wonder. Through this philosophy, Laurameroni transcends conventional design, creating collections that are at once elegant, thoughtful, and deeply expressive—a synthesis of imagination, material mastery, and the lived experience of the spaces and moments that inspire them.
