Konstantin Achkov Studio

Konstantin Achkov is a Bulgarian designer and sculptor whose practice explores the intersection of craftsmanship, engineering, and contemporary furniture design. Based in Sofia, he creates collectible pieces distinguished by structural ingenuity, geometric precision, and a deep understanding of material. Working primarily with birch plywood and solid wood, Achkov combines digital fabrication with traditional woodworking techniques to develop furniture defined by interlocking constructions and refined architectural forms. Guided by a fascination with geometry and construction, Achkov’s work transforms functional furniture into sculptural compositions that celebrate both technical innovation and artisanal craftsmanship. Balancing modularity, material honesty, and structural clarity, his designs embody a contemporary approach to making, resulting in timeless pieces that unite precision, simplicity, and expressive form.
