DESIGNER

Konstantin Achkov Studio

Bulgarian designer Konstantin Achkov leads a Sofia-based studio known for precision-engineered furniture that fuses CNC technology with joinery inspired by traditional carpentry. A trained sculptor and set designer, Achkov works primarily with birch plywood and solid wood, creating interlocking, self-supporting structures that require no nails or screws.

His designs are as much architectural puzzles as functional objects, marrying structural integrity with visual dynamism. Achkov's work, which includes both small-run production and public installations, reflects a fascination with geometry, modularity, and the poetics of construction.
