DESIGNER

Tristan Montabord-Marc

Tristan Montabord-Marc is a French designer whose work is guided by a refined sensitivity to space, material, and light. Born and raised in France, he began his career in residential project development before founding his own design studio in 2021. This professional foundation informs a practice rooted in architectural rigor and an intuitive understanding of lived environments. From an early age, Montabord-Marc has cultivated a heightened awareness of his surroundings—attentive to structure, the richness of volumes, the expressive qualities of materials, and the subtle interplay of light across surfaces. Deeply perceptive and instinctive, he is driven by the luxury lies at the core of his work. His interiors are conceived as harmonious compositions, where architecture and design are unified through meticulous detailing and craftsmanship. Extending this vision, he launched his first limited-edition furniture collection, Auguste, a body of work that engages his personal imagination while offering a narrative dimension to form. Each project is approached with a human-centered framework, placing daily rituals, gestures, and ways of living at the heart of the creative process. Montabord-Marc's practice seeks to shape spaces imbued with permanence, balance, and quiet elegance—environments that resonate deeply with
