Estudio Andean

Estudio ANDEAN is an Ecuadorian design studio founded by Alejandro Moyano, whose practice explores the intersection of contemporary design, artisanal craftsmanship, and Andean cultural heritage. Through collectible furniture, lighting, and décor, the studio reinterprets Ecuadorian iconography, traditional techniques, and local materials into refined contemporary works that celebrate the identity of the Andean region. Guided by the concept of Equatorial Design, Estudio ANDEAN creates pieces that bridge tradition and innovation while honoring the craftsmanship of local makers. Rooted in collaboration with skilled artisans across Ecuador, Estudio ANDEAN combines handcraft with modern manufacturing processes to develop furniture and collectible objects distinguished by sculptural forms, rich materiality, and meticulous detailing. Through an ongoing dialogue between heritage and contemporary design, the studio creates timeless works that celebrate material honesty, cultural identity, and the enduring value of artisanal craftsmanship.
