Estúdio Orth

Estúdio Orth is a multidisciplinary furniture and interior design studio based in São Paulo, founded in 2018 and led by the couple Seba Orth (designer) and Luísa Bianchetti (visual artist). Since its inception, the studio has developed a distinctive practice that balances material richness with formal restraint. Working with a maximalist palette in service of a minimalist language, Estudio Orth approaches functional objects — including lighting, seating, tables, rugs, and everyday accessories — as sculptural forms. Their work engages with symbolism and brutalist influences, navigating a dialogue between organic expression and rational structure. Each piece is meticulously handcrafted, one at a time, by master artisans. Ancestral techniques such as metal casting, solid wood carpentry, and the use of exotic Brazilian stones play a central role in the creative process, lending the studio's work a strong material identity and a sense of timeless maturity.
