DESIGNER

Jeroen Broux

Jeroen Broux is a Belgian artist whose work explores structure, balance, and harmony through a visual language shaped by his background in graphic design. Rooted in geometric principles, his compositions are both precise and quietly expressive, balancing order with subtle emotional resonance. After founding his studio in 2011,

Broux gradually shifted from graphic design to painting, embracing a more tactile and intuitive process. His work is defined by a delicate tension between control and freedom, where structured forms are softened through texture, color, and spatial rhythm.
