EXHIBITION/ Transhumances II Until December 2

Ph/ Maison Mouton Noir

International designers including Cédric Breisacher, Isac Elam Kaid, Sylvia Eustache Rools, Jérôme Pereira, Frédéric Saulou, Flora Temnouche, Elisa Uberti and Willem van Hooff were invited to participate in a residency in the historical Palazzo Galli Tassi, Florence. The results of this project are now on display at the gallery, probing the concept of transhumance, a form of migration based on seasonal movement. Natural, locally sourced materials such as pietra paesina and Impruneta terracotta were moulded into sculptural works using a variety of techniques.
