June 30, 2022 DESIGN, PLACES

In my last post I explained some more about the all new Baranzate Ateliers during Milan Design week 2022, have a look here if you missed my images of the space and the work of Arno de Clerq: Zaventem Ateliers & friends at Milan Design week 2022

Today more about 'Temenos' the show by Galerie Philia, who displayed exclusive creations commissioned from 7 contemporary designers. Studiopepe unveiled their first collectible design collection in collaboration with Galerie Philia as well as sculptural design works from Samuel Costantini, Morghen, Andrés Monnier, Jérôme Pereira, Cristián Mohaded, Pierre de Valck.

Studiopepe x Galerie Philia

United by their common interest in anthropology and the study of artifacts from ancient cultures, Galerie Philia and Studiopepe conceptualised an immersive experience for the Temenos project. Inspired by the circular dimensions of ancient sacral monuments, such as Stonehenge and the dome of the Pantheon, a stately temple-like cylindrical structure symbolising life, nature and cosmic renewal will be installed in the centre of the exhibition space, creating a radical contrast as well as a dialogue with the surrounding industrial architecture. A synaesthetic video will be projected on the floor of a round white surface, emulating a water pond, historically used for divination.
