

The ELLE Decoration guide to Milan Design Week 2023

The annual celebration of all that's new and next in design is upon us. From Salone del Mobile to Brera, Alcova and beyond, these are the launches and events to seek out

‘Desacralized’, Galerie Philia

San Vittore e 40 Martiri, a deconsecrated church located in the centre of Milan, has hosted some unexpected events over the years – most recently, it’s been used as a basketball court – but for Design Week, it’s going to take people’s breath away. Galerie Philia has invited a worldwide roster of designers (from Ukrainian studio Faina to Chinese Kar Studio) to present work inspired by objects and ideas that were once considered sacred. Italian duo Morghen’s ‘Cascades of Light’ chandelier (pictured above) is worthy of attentive contemplation. 18–23 April, galerie-phia.com